A Scane at the Hardfordentifus Election.—
A most painful scene occurred at Hertford on Tuesday, the 18th. Toward the close of the proceedings of the Election and the close of the proceedings of the Election to the womanly beauty exhibited in the long line of open carriages, chaises, and vans drawn up In front of the hustings, there was unwoated stir in the crowd, which parted to admit of the passage of a bired brougham from one of the town incs. The carriage having stopped, two ladies slighted, one of them as extremely handsome woman of about forty-five years of age, with fresh complexion, and with eyes of dazzling beauty. The lady, who was evidently laboring under exclusion, the carriage having the powers to control, advanced as nearly as she could through the crowd toward the hastings, and annuanced herself as the wife of the Right Hon. Sir E B. Lytton, stating that she had come according to a promise made by her to confront her hashand and to expose the wrongs which she said he had inflicted upon her, and which she had described in her works and in a pennish that published by her.

Theorems were of the lady was not meet pected, as and which she had described in her works and in a pamphlet published by her.

The spearance of the lady wasnot neexpected, as her coming had been aunumeed in bills and placards; but, nwing to a deception which had been practiced upon her by some persons in the town who had istroduced themselves to her, she was detained in the town while i be election was proceeding in the vicinity. Those in the secret ant cipated that abe would not disnover the mistake matil the proceedings were over, and that her design would be than frustrated. It was nearly so. Recognized as soon as observed, her voice was nearly drowned by the shouts of Sir Edward's supporters, but Sir Edward a eye caught here, and his face paled. He looked like a man suddenly attacked by paralysis.

he state contain facts to the world with reference to said committee, and ask a place in your columns for the publication of them, as our little paper here, and in fact every paper in this portion of the State is either in league or fear of their vigilance and tyranny.

This morning four of my most prominent men, to-wit John J. Early, D'Witt Lucian, Jerome Baker, and Col. J. Alfono Crockett, were found hunging to an many tree In the unwards of our city. Intense excitement casist, and many of our cityens are now under arm, for the protection of law-shiding citizens, who done to raise their hands against these middless assaudes.

Another remarkable feature is this: every one of Acother remarkable feature is this: every one of Acother remarkable feature is this: every one of Acother remarkable feature is the sweet of the feature in the formation party. In it is prescriptus? Oil. Crockett and Mr. Early lare interesting from which it still not shortly recover.

A fatal affery occurred backween Messrs. Chewning and Peak of Sulvara county, last week. They were in the bouse of Mr. Chewning, together with other neighbors who had come to another Mr. Co. to roll logs that day. There had been a long standing centity between them, but they had long been on apparantly, freedily terms. On this occasion the surface of the sulvaranced profits of the proposition to be had but a little rice, and the sulvaranced profits of the proposition to the context and propose, has induced the Patent Office to make a nappeal to the General Gavernment for protection, or at least demand an investigation.

Some weeks after this period, a man going up the river found in some drift wood a body whose size and dress answered a description of Lewis's. The body had in it buck-shot holes and stabs. Passmore was arrested and held in a heavy bail. Shortly after this, the steamer Sam Hale arrived at Clarendon, and the pilot, Bateman, and the captain, Dougherty, cleared Passmore of all auspicion by testifying that they had seen Lewis at Na-

CHINA.—The following is an extract from a letter of an American gentleman resident at Shanghae, written in April:

On Sunday, February 24, Mr. Ollphant and Visconte G. D. Contades, attaches of the joint embassy of the two belligerent powers (Faglanti and France) arrived at Shangbae, being the bearers of a letter for transmission to the Emperor of Chiua. This lamportant dispatch is said to be from the English and French Plenipotentiaries, and the English and French Plenipotentiaries, and the canomaried by the Consults of England, France, and the United States of America. It seems that the channel through which this important missive is to be sent is the Governor of this Province, Kyang-Su. proceeded on their way up the river toward the great city of Snchan, the seat of the Lieutenant-Governor. His Excellency, Governor Chan, having heard that the barbarian Consale were really coming on to the great city, immediately thought out a plan for their defeat.

He at once posted down the river hy boats to the inferior town of Kwung-ahan, and sent a mandarin boat to meet and arrest the expedition, requesting the consuls to land at Kwung-Shau, as he was waiting there to receive them. But the barbarian consuls would not be defeated. The interpreters told the mandarin in command of the boat that his Excellency, Chau, must at once hasten on to the provincial city of Suchan, as they would see him there and nowhere else, and that if he were not very quick they would be there before him. In a few bours they actually entered the city of Suchau by the water-gates—some dozen boats in all, flying the language of America. His Excellency then sent them a letter requesting them to neet bim ontside the city. But they replied, inside the city at the Government House, and nowhere else. Finding that the stiff-necked harbrainan would not be moved from their purpose, he sent down to the boats forty-thair-bearers and ten sedan chairs to convey them to the Government House, Forty thousand people turned out to look at the barbarian procession, not knowing hut that they had come to take possession of the city.

With open months they gazed in mute astonish.

From GEN. Johnston's Camp.-We understand that the relatives of tien, Johnston in this city have longs.
Given at Managua, May 6, 1858. Thomas Martin ez, Senor Don Gregorio Juarez, Minister of Foreign eceived a letter from him, in which he gives it as his opinion that the Mormons will not submit as peaceably as previous accounts had led us to lafer. for informati ation and effect.
[Sigued.] GREGORIO JUAREZ.

The Cincinnati Enquirer has an interesting letter rom Camp Scott. We make some extracts from it, CAMP SCOTT, UTAH TERRITORY, June 5, 1858. June 5, 1858.)

One hundred and severity more of the Mormons whom his Excellency too. Cumming released from the oppression of "Zion" in Salt Lake arrived at our camp last week. They renained here a few days, when, being joined by the eighteen who had arrived the week before, they all, save a few families who were unable, from poverty and suffering to prosecute their journey, started on the 29th ultilo the States.

I visited their first comp from here and remained many hours among them to gain all the information I could elicit concerning the affairs in the Valley.

A more piteous and heart-remaining spectacle my eyes never beheld before. "Five Points" in New York would not parade ench another array of destitution, suffering, want, and raggedness. Their clothes were patch-work, made up from every variety of rloth and rags. And of this many were harely able to get enough to cover their nakedness. The women were hardly dressed decently. I noticed several young women who had on only a skirt, and with no covering above the waist but a firty shirt. There were old men and women beat with age who had gone to "Zion" many years ago in comfortable circumstancer, now returning in abject poverty, and bearing the marks of untold cares and suffering. They singrated to Salt Lake, they said, to find Jesus! In live with the people of God. They had been deceived; they had been rabbed in the name of religion of all they possessed; they were made shoes, and now after sacrificing everything—their best dayz—they had at last been allowed to escape, many to find a grave on the inhospitable Plains. There were young women, who were girls, little girls, bunyant with life, full of hope and punished with their children, broken-hearted and crushed in spirit.

One young woman, now eixteen, was compelled.

Passuonts for France.—Mr. Sartiges, the French Minister, writes to Secretary Cass that the regulations in regard to passports to France have not been phanged. The view of a French agent ahead is obligatory on every one who wishes to proceed to France. The consul general, consuls, and, by exception, the French vice-consul at Baltimore, as well as the legation of the Emperor at Washington, have power to grant these visus. Carriers bearing official dispatches of a foreign government are exempted from the general rule in regard to the visus on condition that they are provided with a passport issued on the responsibility of such government, and mentioning their character.
